FINANCIAL EMIGRATION

South Africans who have left or plan to leave South Africa permanently and remain abroad, can do so through the process of "financial emigration," which ceases their South African tax residency status with SARS.

Although SARS is no longer engaged in the application process, financial emigration provides legal clarity on non-tax resident status for exchange control purposes. The benefits of financial emigration include favourable financial planning possibilities, such as the ability to cash out one's retirement annuity before the maturity date if you can demonstrate non-tax residency for three consecutive years.

In addition from assisting you with the initial paperwork, our specialists at Financial Emigration South Africa will complete the full process for you. This includes an assessment of your financial position and tax status based on SARS records, retrospective tax correction and backdating as needed, completing, and submitting your emigration application with SARS and obtaining an emigration tax clearance certificate, assisting with any triggered Capital Gains Tax events, transferring funds offshore and redeeming policies, and more, all tailored to your specific needs.
